RE:	Channel Cessation (ESPN Classic & NBCSports)

RE: NBCSports, ESPN Classic

Dear HITS Affiliate,

Comcast Technology Solutions has been notified by ESPN/Disney that ESPN Classic will cease entirely on January 01, 2022, at 6:00 am EST. ESPN Classic is currently available on the Managed Satellite platform on AMC-11 in our XSD 4 multiplex, and the Managed Terrestrial Platform.

The morning of January 1, 2022, HITS will make the necessary channel map changes to remove all versions and references to ESPN Classic for any NAS Systems that carry this service. As a reminder, locally controlled systems will need to implement their own channel map changes.

We have also been notified by NBCU that the distribution of NBCSports will cease entirely on December 31, 2021, at Midnight EST. NBCU will provide a slate on the network to allow affiliates to update channel maps. The signal will cease on January 10, 2022.

The morning of January 10, 2022, HITS will make the necessary channel map changes to remove all versions and references to NBCSports SD, NBCSports Alt, and NBCUSports HD for any NAS Systems that carry these services. As a reminder, locally controlled systems will need to implement their own channel map changes.
